What follows is my short introduction. My name is Oliver Mahoro. I am 31 years old. I used to live in Kigali, Rwanda, Africa. In the Sustainable World Project I am a Primary Continent Leader for Africa. My mission is to inspire a total of 4.000 Sustainable World Leaders by October 2026. They all go out in their countries to facilitate fun filled events. Worldwide fun filled interactive events will touch humanity. Imagine each and every person in our world experiencing hope and joy on a daily basis. How will this impact their thoughts and feelings? How will this impact their communications and actions? We believe this mission will contribute to the transformation of our world. My name is Oliver Mahoro. My vision is a world where people smile happily each and every day!

Since May 26th 2019 I have joined Richard at the Sustainable World Leader Training Center in Bangalore, India. We are now looking for the next Primary Leaders Honest, Lina, Mian and Clement to join. You can read the introductions of Lina and Clement on the next pages. Together our focus is now on finding the next leaders.

In our Facebook group we invite leaders who are interested in transforming their country, continent or world. Through a 50 step selection process they can become a leader in the Sustainable World Project. For steps 2 to 37 of this selection process we have made 5 Welcome Packs with information and assignments. You have now 14 days to answer the final questions of the day 5 Welcome Pack. We are looking for mature leaders who want to dedicate their life to making a big impact in the world. We start today with getting to know one another.

In our Facebook Group you will find more leaders who are in the selection process for coming to Bangalore, India for training. In the group you will also find leaders who have already joined our official Selection Group on WhatsApp. They are active in the group to support you. Others are, just like you, still in the selection process.

I have chosen to relocate to Bangalore, India. The next years I am working side by side with Richard, Honest, Mian, Clement and Lina on finding the total of 50 Primary Continent Leaders, 1000 Country Leaders and 9000 Project Leaders. We started with choosing leaders for the African continent. We have now expanded our search for exceptional leaders to America, Europe, Middle East, Asia and the Pacific. Are you the next leader? Are you inspired by playing a key role in transforming your community, country and world? Then commit to this pre-selection process. If I can do it, I am sure you can too! I do not believe there is anything special about me. I am simply willing to learn and take action.

I will now introduce the founder of the Sustainable World Project. He will be your coach when you are selected to be added to our official WhatsApp group with leaders. I have never met anyone like him. He will make you feel comfortable, he will accept you without conditions and he loves to joke around. Richard will empower you to discover the potential you have inside. After more than a year of participation I now know we can change the world.

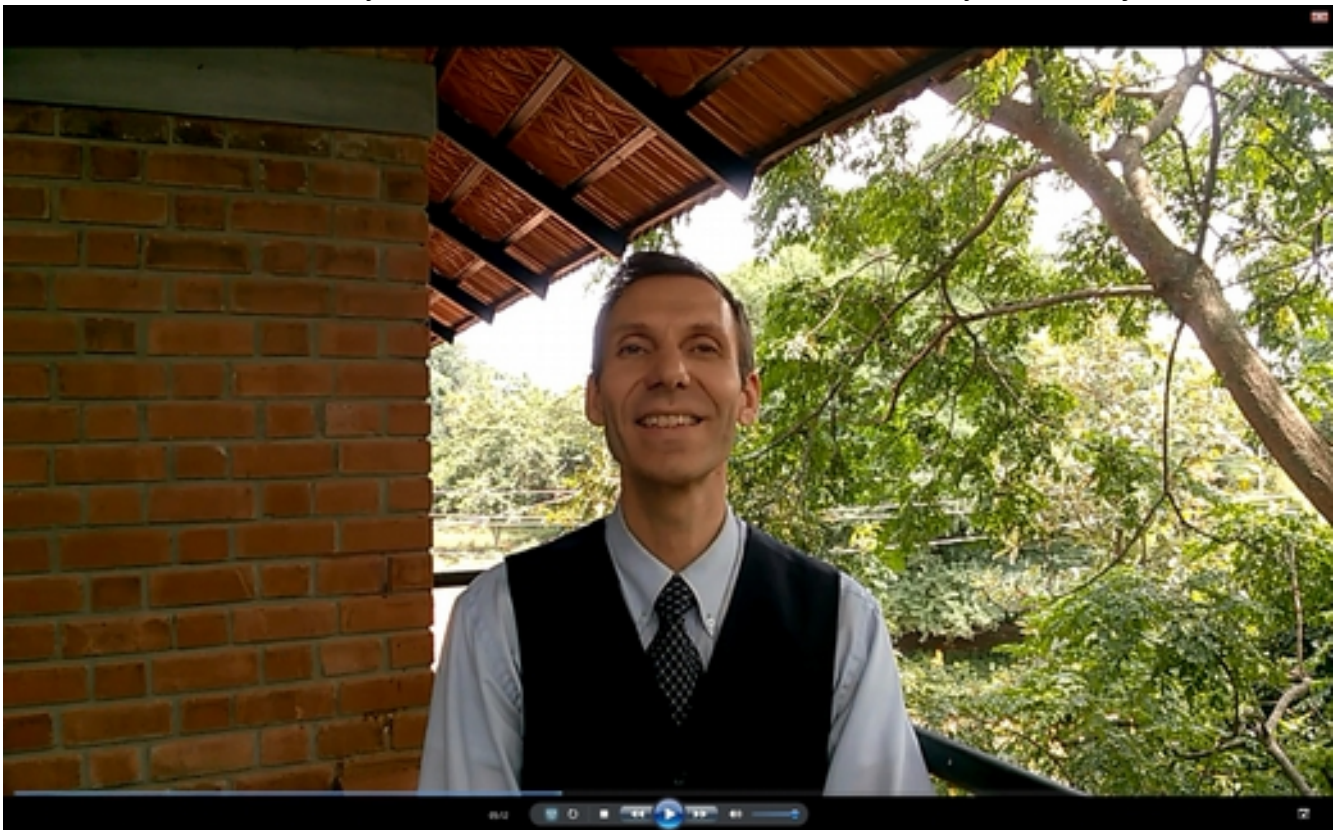

RICHARD'S INTRODUCTION

He was born in the Netherlands in 1969. He graduated top of his class, Cum Laude, as Civil Engineer. For 5 years he was the CEO of a European IT Company. Richard likes to joke. He says: "I had become a selfish materialistic jerk!" ;) In 1997 he participated in a Reiki weekend. A glimpse of unity consciousness changed everything. In the year 2000 he decided to sell his house, retire from his company, return his car to the dealer and buy a one way ticket around the world. In 2001 he left all behind to pursue an impossible dream. A dream of creating a world that works for ALL people. This was the start of a 50 year project to transform our world.

Now in 2020 he is the Founder of the Sustainable World Project. Our objective is to witness the end of all poverty, war and environmental destruction before the year 2050. We will achieve this by addressing the root cause of all violence. All violence stems from our lower egoic state of consciousness. To raise our state of consciousness Richard has developed a 50 step plan that is uniting a critical mass of Sustainable World Leaders. These leaders will be supported by every day people, in a role as Participating Audience. As of 2021 we are at step 11 out of 50 and the Sustainable World Project has united nearly 25.000 people from all around the world and attracts dozens of new people every day.

Using ancient wisdom and the latest consciousness science, this critical mass is inspiring heart centered habits for humanity. Habits revolving around the six heart virtues of appreciation, compassion, forgiveness, humility, understanding and valor. These habits will awaken unprecedented experiences of connection, joy and inner peace. These habits will inspire humanity to unite; one worldwide family ready to care for one another and share with one another.

Richard has spent more than 20 years to test and develop this program. In that process three times he lost all his money. Like Nelson Mandela he has been falsely accused, jailed, abused and threatened to be killed. He has been jobless, homeless, broke, depressed and suicidal. He has faced death 6 times, gave up 8 houses, 3 cars, a marriage, his family, his country and sometimes almost his sanity. ;) Inspired by the compassion of Mother Teresa and the non-violence of Gandhi he says: "I do not mind. I am willing to give my life for something which can assist humanity to a sustainable world."

Bangalore, India has become his home. People worldwide are getting an opportunity to play a key role in creating a world that works for ALL. If you would like to play a key role in bringing about a sustainable world, then continue reading!

[END PROFILE]

Richard is juggling a lot of commitments. He will not be able to respond to each and every person reaching out to him by private chat. Put your questions in the Facebook Group and one of our leaders will respond. Be patient. Richard will observe most communications and he is looking for mature leaders who understand that things take time. In the next days we will share more information with you. The founder Richard Alexander is following most conversations in the Facebook Group. So make sure you represent yourself in the best possible way. Next pages we will introduce few more leaders.

INTRODUCTION LINA PURBA

My name is Lina Purba. I am 50 years old. Currently I live in Bekasi, West Java, Indonesia. In the Sustainable World Project I am a Primary Continent Leader for the Pacific.

My local mission is to raise unity consciousness. Indonesia consists of more than seventeen thousand islands and hundreds of distinct native ethnic and linguistic groups. It's a country with beautiful diversities when we view from the perspective of unity consciousness. The diversities however have been used to separate, divide and conquer us. Sovereignty has turned into slavery. We have unconsciously enslaved one another. My commitment is to see Indonesia as a free, united and sovereign nation. Our founding fathers once formulated the motto 'United We Stand, Divided We Fall'. My mission is to revive this motto in the collective consciousness of all Indonesian people.

How was my local mission triggered? It was triggered by everyday life events. Often I was refused, denied and discriminated for my identity. I was defined based on my identity. I was not allowed to even help people because of my identity. However, in emergency situations where identity was not questioned, I spoke to people from my heart and they responded from their heart. Together we overcame many problems.

From 2009 to 2012 I used to party in night clubs. I would dance just like others, but no one knew what was in my mind. I was there to learn and I learned a lot. I learned what made young girls come to the night clubs, what they wanted, how they got there, how they paid their drinks and how they went home. I didn't ask them, they told me. I found out that most of them were not happy, they felt lonely and unworthy and they had no one to share their life with. I also noticed that nobody cared about identity in the clubs. I started to think of ways to get them all together in a more powerful context.

In 2011 I invited them to have dinner with me in a restaurant. I suggested for all of us to get together every Saturday afternoon for fun, games and sports. They loved the idea. We named our community HIZEG (High Zeal Girls). We did this for 9 years. I noticed how we all learned to respect each other, listen to each other and help each other. The result was that 75% of the young girls finally managed to finish their education and 80% of the single parent women found their passion while making money for the family.

June 2012 I founded Yayasan Cahaya Cassiopeia (The Light of Cassiopeia). We aimed to empower women, young and old. We aimed to help children in health and education. Our first action was to help 30 children and 17 mothers who lived with HIV/AIDS. We helped with foods, milk and school needs. Sometimes we took the children to a park and we played with them, we also created games for the mothers. In 2018 the number went up to 99 children and 30 mothers. In 2019 I started a new group with 25 children without mother. I was not trying to heal them from HIV/AIDS. I was trying to heal their wounded hearts. I wanted them to know that they're not alone. I wanted them to know they are loved. I can't prevent their death but I can be with them. I can't force others to accept them but I can.

October 2020 I contacted some friends and invited them to start a community in Bali that will focus on energy healing. We will also encourage people to meditate as the basis of the healing. We aim to raise the collective consciousness of people in order to raise the collective vibration. At this point we are still in the beginning and we just created a WhatsApp group for this cause. Now, for me, it's time to reach out further, to make a bigger impact.

On December 7th 2020 I started my training in the Sustainable World Project. Using 9 programs for Radical Transformation I will be learning how to create value in my community and how to co-facilitate critical mass actions to inspire Unity Consciousness and heart centered living.

On Monday July 6th 2026, in Empowerment Camp 7, 750 Sustainable World Leaders will start facilitating a first 6 week long global critical mass action in the Buddha Maitreya Pyramid at 1:30 Sidereal time. This will start shifting the global collective consciousness for 1 hour per day over 6 weeks time.

On Saturday October 3rd 2026, through Worldwide Interactive Events on our online Empowerment Platform, 1.596 Sustainable World Leaders will start to be in unity consciousness for 1 hour per month with 0.1% of the world population, inviting these 8 million people 'Participating Audience' to live a non-violent heart centered living.

By Saturday September 3rd 2028, through Worldwide Interactive Events on our online Empowerment Platform 10.000 Sustainable World Leaders will start to be in unity consciousness for 2 hours per week with 1% of the world population, inviting these 80 million people 'Participating Audience' to live a non-violent heart centered living.

The raise in consciousness will result in millions of people 'Participating Audience' taking inspired action. Their objective is creating communities, countries and continents that work for all. This is the start towards the fulfillment of VISION 2050 - a world that works for ALL people.

My name is Lina Purba. My vision is a world where people live in harmony and unity.

INTRODUCTION CLEMENT AGADJA

My name is Clement Agadja. I am 23 years old. I live in Parakou, Benin, Africa. In the Sustainable World Project I am a Primary Continent Leader for Africa.

My local mission is to be an ambassador of peace. I seek the betterment of the lives of people by facilitating programs for radical transformation. I seek to reduce poverty, inequality, violence and environmental issues. By setting an example and facilitating empowerment camps I make my community aware of the power we all have inside.

My local mission was triggered by the extreme poverty in my community. I have seen young people and their parents so poor and desperate that they had lost all hope. The high rate of epidemic, chronic disease and malnutrition made life unbearable for most people. Basic needs were not met. I felt furious and useless at the same time witnessing these horrors. I promised myself that I will no longer sit back and be a spectator. It was time to claim my power. It was time to step up as a leader.

In 2016 I participated in the advanced level examination in my country. Parallel I was active in local activities organized by nonprofit organizations. I was committed to enhance my leadership skills. When I failed my examination I entered a painful process. I thought: "All the work I have put in for preparation is lost!" I felt devastated and heartbroken. My closest relatives and colleagues said: "Your involvement in social work is going to cost you your studies and future career!"

In March 2016 I embarked on a new journey. With a group of 8 friends and 3 social workers in my community, we enquired into how to overcome the challenges in our community. A year after failing my exam I realized that what I perceived as my demise actually ended up being a gift in disguise. The painful process helped me realize my purpose in life: CREATING A SUSTAINABLE WORLD; A WORLD THAT WORKS FOR ALL PEOPLE. From 2016 up to 2018 we led ten empowerment camps for more than a hundred young people. My aim was to train leaders and make my community action oriented. Through collaborations with 4 non-profit organizations we managed to inspire more than a thousand people in four campaigns.

Now in 2020 I see that there is a change in the way people are living in my community of 3000 people. It is visible in seeing more than 750 young people participating in social nonprofit works, environment cleaning and community protection. About 40% of the young people in my community have committed to be in action. They bring change to their own lives and to the lives of the people around them. More than 300 needy people's lives have been impacted by providing them support, protection and a reduction in pollution. People now understand the importance of doing charitable work in their community.

On June 18th 2020 I started my training in the Sustainable World Project. Using 9 programs for radical transformation I will be learning how to create value in my community, how to co-facilitate critical mass action to raise the collective state of consciousness, how to overcome the violent mindset and how to inspire non-violent heart centered living.

On Monday July 6th 2026, in Empowerment Camp 7, 750 Sustainable World Leaders will start facilitating a first 6 week long global critical mass action in the Buddha Maitreya Pyramid at 1:30 Sidereal time.
